

Wireless number portability is needed in our mobile society.

The wireless industry should honor the FCC's plan for portability, and if necessary, we consumers should be prepared to pay a small, (reasonable) fee to enable nationwide portability immediately.